Mr. Costello, according to statements made public intends to go farther and have the state take over the New London-Groton ferry business now under municipal management and a continuous and growing expense to the city of New London. The Groton people positively refuse to reduce this loss by the payment of increased ferriage, but demand that service be provided, regardless of the loss as New London is required by legislative action to furnish an adequate ferry. There was a time when Groton was anxious to be a partner in the ferry business, but was not permitted by the city of New London. That time has gone by, and the Groton people are in readiness to oppose any legislative amendment to the franchise that will permit any increase in ferry rates. It's a safe

Representative-elect Morris B. Payne, has expressed himself as a supporter of the Costello scheme for the free highway bridge, and incidentally the ferry business goes with it. The plan of procedure has not been given to the public, that little matter can be safely left with Mr. Costello, who, while new to the legislature is not green in matter political and politics do sometimes enter actively into legislative business. The legislature is rare indeed, where matter pertaining to New London are not in the focus of the flood light, and the incoming session will be no exception.

pertaining to New London are not in the focus of the flood light, and the incoming session will be no exception.

Representative-elect Ernest E. Rogers is sawing wood on the problems that Senator-elect Costello is discussing in the public print, seconded by Representative-cleet Payne. As mayor of New London Mr. Rogers is the man of all men who advocated municipal ownership and management of the New London and Groton ferry, and at a time when he knew, and the citizens generally knew, that the highway bridge was to be operated in the very near future. It was the mayor who led the way to take over the ferry business from the then lesses, and who were willing to renew the lease, and there was a motive for the moval, and there was a motive for the moval with an an anti-color of the start of the ferry, the citizens in city meeting assembled voted in favor of taking over the ferry business it has been a serious one since Mrs. The problem of getting the mail from those in the public was to be operated to the saw, and the very near future. It was the mayor who led the way to take over the form, and there was a motive for the moval his influence, in part, and his assertions as the form will make the maximum to the form, and the read of the ferry the citizens in city meeting the court of common cota aty or district to the state capitol and dient to the franchise that will permit any increase in ferry rates. It's a safe bet that the legislators will not raddle that ferry onto the state, and have it operated in connection with the bridge. Mr. Costello would have a free bridge and to make the play consistent the ferry must also be free, to avoid class favoritism.
